

3820 Ventura Dr.
 Arlington Heights, IL 60004
 847-359-3828
employment@digidescorp.com

DDC Positions Available 2011.

DDC designs cutting edge video/imaging and communication systems for many of the largest companies in the world in a diverse application space (medical, military, industrial, consumer), as well as for its own diverse product portfolio. DDC sells to widely recognized companies and specializes in innovative digital implementations of these systems.

Website: www.digidescorp.com

Title	Board Designer
Description	DDC is seeking a hardware engineer interested in working on a broad variety of very complex FPGA based systems which include products for military, automotive and medical markets. This individual ideally will have experience bringing products and projects from concept to production in a fast paced, small company environment.
Experience required	3-5+ years
Education required	BSEE or Equivalent
Requirements	Focus will be placed on hardware architecture and development in the following areas: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • System level hardware architecture skills • Schematic capture, preferably with Altium Designer • PCB layout of high speed, high layer count printed circuit boards, preferably with Altium Designer • FPGA-based design experience (Xilinx and/or Altera a plus) • General high speed design experience (DDR2/DDR3, multi-gigabit serial links, etc.) • Bill of Materials parts selection and generation • Production follow through, board bring up and initial testing • Customer interfacing
Skills	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Good communication skills • Strong problem solving abilities • Strong analytical skills • The ability to work in a fast paced, deadline-oriented environment
Time	Immediate
Positions available	1

3820 Ventura Dr.
 Arlington Heights, IL 60004
 847-359-3828
employment@digidescorp.com

Title	.Net Programmer
Description	The main responsibility is the design, maintenance, and testing of production-level form-based application software based on Microsoft .NET framework. These software products work in conjunction with other DDC video/imaging and VoIP hardware products.
Experience required	0-5 years
Education required	BS/BA or greater in Computer Science, Computer/Software Engineering
Requirements	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Strong working knowledge of Microsoft .NET framework • Strong working knowledge of C++, C#, and object oriented programming • Good communication skills, strong problem solving abilities, strong analytical skills • Ability to multi-task
Additional Skills	Forms, Application Deployment, Multi-threaded programming, Google maps and Google Earth APIs, Direct Show, Direct X, Image manipulation, Streaming video and audio, Codecs, Network programming / protocols, VoIP experience
Time	Immediate
Positions available	1

Title	Marketing Director
Overview	DDC is a high-tech engineering firm with a world-class client list. It provides an array of engineering services, and has several product lines. It specializes in video, image processing, and communications.
Experience required	15 + years of sales/marketing experience
Education required	MBA and/or technical background a plus
Requirements	Mil-Aero connections a plus. Some responsibilities include managing the sales/marketing staff to increase revenue by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Driving awareness of DDC's products and solutions ○ Create new channels and manage existing channels ○ Identifying target market segments and strategies for selling into those markets ○ Managing and guide the PR and communications strategy ○ Managing and help create product-related partnerships ○ Overseeing web presence and marketing literature ○ Working with Engineering and management to facilitate company's goals
Time	Immediate
Positions available	1